

Arthur Zarr is a quiet man who lives by himself in a small house. When he gets a creative idea to start adding objects to his car's plain exterior, the people in his town start noticing Arthur for the first time. Neighbors and other bystanders join him by adding their own artistic flair to the car. What happens when Arthur enters his bedazzled vehicle in the town's annual Art Car Parade? Ride with Arthur through his imaginative journey as he builds an art car and makes new friends along the way.

“This tale’s light humor and unexpected premise will encourage empathy and appreciation for artistic flights of fancy.” — Kirkus Reviews

“A profound message about living creatively, finding community, and connecting to the world.” — Paige Duke, Editor

“The book built anticipation to see what groovy item would get attached to his car next!” — Five-star Amazon Review

“A sweet story about how creativity frees us and how small changes can lead to life-altering events.” — Lorie Powers, elementary school teacher

ISBN: 978-0-9961150-0-1

Category: Children’s picture book, ages 4-10

Available: Now

Publisher: Twenty-Eight Creative

Hardcover: 8.5 x 11 in.; 40 pages; dust jacket

Sold by: Twenty-Eight Creative

Retail Pr: $19.99 (whsl discount available)

Contact: catheynickell@gmail.com

WEBSITE: www.catheynickell.com

SOCIAL MEDIA:

www.facebook.com/catheynickell

Twitter: @catheynickell

Instagram: @catheynickell

Cathey Nickell is a Houston-based author and elementary school speaker. In 2017, Arthur Zarr’s Amazing Art Car was awarded first place by the Texas Association of Authors for Children’s Picture Book/All Ages. Cathey doesn’t drive an art car herself, but she has a habit of covering the back of her SUV with bumper stickers! She also snaps pictures of art cars—which are plentiful in Houston—when she sees them. Cathey talks to students about writing, creativity and where to find that spark of inspiration.